

Ultimate Baja California

- Hike, bike, swim, sea kayak, eat, relax the Mexican way

Itinerary in full:

Day 1: Transfer from the International Airport of La Paz to our B&B. Welcome dinner and briefing.

Day 2: Transportation to Santiago at the east side of the peninsula (two hours drive). We will visit an oasis town in the middle of the desert by the sea of Cortez. Afterwards, a 13 miles bike-ride will bring us to the San Dionisio Canyon, where we can refresh ourselves. Overnight camp at the San Dionisio ranch.

Day 3: Today we will be hiking to La Victoria ranch. Overnight camp at the ranch, 5 to 6 hours walk.

Day 4: Another day of hiking will bring us to La Sierra de la Laguna. This is a unique place where desert turns into forest, 2,600m above sea-level. Amazing views of the Sea of Cortez and the Pacific Ocean. Overnight camp at the ranch.

Day 5: A transfer day that will bring us back to the beach at Todos Santos. Overnight camp at the beach.

Day 6: We will have enough time to visit the town of Todos Santos, afterwards it's beach time: Boogie boarding, snorkeling, swimming, fishing... In the afternoon we will head back to La Paz, where we will be staying in the same charming B&B.

Day 7: A quick boat ride to the Espiritu Santo island, famous for its sea lions. Ample time for swimming and snorkeling. Picnic lunch at the beach. In the afternoon we will take the boat back to La Paz.

Day 8: Today we will have a long bus ride ahead of us, since we will be going to San Ignacio. On the way we will have time enough to visit Loreto, Mulege and Santa Rosalia.

Day 9: An early start to the Sierra de San Francisco Canyon, which we will descend on foot. Overnight camping in a ranch on the bottom of the canyon.

Day 10: After a hearty cooked breakfast, we will visit the famous cave paintings, a UNESCO World Heritage site. The paintings are made by Indians in huge caves, over 1000 years ago. Overnight camping at the ranch.

Day 11: Trek back to the top of the canyon and transportation back to San Ignacio, where we will be staying for the night.

Day 12: Today we will be heading back to La Paz.

Day 13: After a refreshing breakfast, we will go for a quick hike near La Paz to see some cave paintings, the afternoon is at your disposal, sea kayaking is possible.

Day 14: Free day in La Paz, relax at the beach, go snorkeling, kayaking, fishing, shopping...

Day 15: Departure day, transfer back to the airport of La Paz.
